MARKET WAS DULL

New York, March 31.—The session of the stock exchange today was relatively dull and professional, but the trend of prices was unmistakably upward, though easing generally on realising for profits in the final hour.

There was no visible change in the money situation, demand loans again seeing at 8 per cent, and rising to 12 per cent toward the close. Time funds were virtually unobtainable except for renewals into the year's second quarter.

Foreign exchange retained all of its recent uncertain characteristics, the London rate railying briskly, probably as a result of further gold imports, but French and Italian bills were heavy, has declining to the new discount of 20.75 to the dollar, but advancing slightly at the close.

In its main essentials the stock market covered the ground made familiar by the more speculative operations of the past few weeks. New maximums were established by several of the prominent motors, steels and equipments.

HEYDLER DENIES THAT
MAGEE HAS FILED CHARGES MAGEE HAS FILED CHARGES

New York, March 31.—John A. Heydler, president of the National baseball league, in a letter to Lee Magee's attorney, today reiterated his denial that Magee had filed any charges against team owners or supplied any names of players whom Magee accused of gambling on games in which they played. The alleged charges referred to by Magee's attorney as complaints against National league magnates, President Heydler's letter said, "consist of a claim that Mr. Magee was not a member of the Chicago club in proper standing in 1919 and was released without charges being brought against him."

"It is neither customary nor necessary for a club to prefer charges against a player before giving him his release," the letter added. "The matter of the release of Mr. Magee is one between him and the Chicago club."

President Heydler promised immedi-

Referring to the charges against Hall Chase, the letter said:

Referring to the charges against Hal Chase, the letter said:

"You were the attorney of record for Player Hal Chase when charges were brought against him in 1918, As part of the proceedings there was furnished to you a complete copy of the specifications and affidavits of Messrs. Mathewson, Neale, Ring, Perrit, McGraw and Regan, filed against your client. As you well know, Player Chase in his sworn answer—presumably prepared by you—and in his testimony given under oath and while attended by local counsel representing you, denied each and every charge made in the affidavits. Opportunity was given his counsel for full cross-examination of each witness and to furnish such testimony as he desired to produce. These affidavits are no doubt the ones referred to by you in your letter of March 28, 1820, to make the stimony as he desired to produce.

"On all the testimony then available, I decided that the serious charge against Chase had not been sustained.

"You now bring up thees affidavits as alleged charges against the persons who made them and apparently against your former client Chase; for if you claim the affidavits are true now, they were true in 1919, when the case was tried; and the defense made and testimony given by Chase under your direction in denial thereof could not be the truth if the charges and affidavits were true.

"I publicly warned the players in the National league that betting elithe to win or lose would not be toler and I know of no case where that warning has been disregarded. If you or your client know of any player who has in the season of 1919 made a bet, or been interested in one of any player who has in the season of 1919 made a bet, or been interested in one, of any one in which his club participated, you are requested, in confidence, if you desire, or with full publicity, to name him and direct me to the evidence, or furnish it, and there will be no delay in acting in the matter.

SMART BALL PLAYERS PULL

BONEHEAD PLAYS IN LIFE Many smart ball players who have obtained a strangle hold on fame and obtained a strangle hold on fame and fortune on the baseball diamond, have pulled terrible bonehead plays in the game of life. Mike Donlin, once famous National leaguer, declared recently that major league ball players are the softest kind of picking for the olly tongued gents who promote oilless oil companies. Mike may have been stretching it a point of two, but it would seem he had the dope.

Baseball fans will never forget the manner in which Mike Doolin, famous shortstop with the Phillies for many seasons, was "taken over" by a jitney

Manager Pat Moran of the Cincinnati club, says ball players who are smart in the national pastime are so eager to invest their spare money they do not exercise as much judgment in selecting an investment as they do in selecting a job in baseball, and therefore they fall easy prey to fine sharks who are ever on the alert for victims
